Truman Leaves Honolulu For Wake Island

Completing Flight For Conference With Gen. MacArthur

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HONOLULU, Oct. 14—President Truman took off from Honolulu for Wake Island today for his conference with Gen. Douglas MacArthur in a new approach to world peace "without the use of guns."

The chief executive's glistering silver and blue four-engined liner got away from Honolulu's Hickam Airfield at 12:25 a. m. local time (5:25 a. m. EST) under a canopy of deep blue Pacific skies shot through with starlight.

Mr. Truman went aboard his plane for a rest more than an hour and a half before the DC-6's huge engines were turned over for the takeoff.

He played the role of what watching newsmen called "amateur astronomer" as he scanned the star-flecked Pacific skies.

Gen. MacArthur Already There
At the time of the President's departure, Gen. MacArthur already had arrived at Wake Island for the week-end conference destined to end the war in Korea in the shortest possible time and chart all Allied peace measures in the Pacific.

Just before the President's departure from Hickam airport on the outskirts of Honolulu, the auxiliary four-engined White House plane "Dewdrop" got under way.

This craft carried Mr. Truman's highest advisors, including U. S. Army Chief of Staff Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley and former Assistant Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman.

Admiral Arthur W. Radford, U. S. naval commander in the Pacific, boarded the "Dewdrop" just before the takeoff.

President Truman asked him to attend the Wake Island conference. The Chief Executive gave indications on the eve of his departure from Honolulu that he may be planning a new approach through the United Nations to show that war is not inevitable and that peace can be achieved.

The President gave hints of what was on his mind yesterday when he spoke to high officials in Honolulu and said that he does not believe LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The United States today proposed a five-year extension of Trygve Lie's expiring term as secretary general of the United Nations.

The American diplomatic team also backed a move to have the General Assembly summoned by Wednesday for pushing the extension proposal to a vote.

Opposition by Soviet
The Soviet Union is leading the opposition campaign to force Lie out of his $40,000 yearly job and replace him with a candidate more to their own liking. In private conversations around U. N.

Bermuda In Storm's Path

MIAMI, Oct. 14. — (INS) — A tropical storm far out in the Atlantic ocean grew into a full-sized 90-mile-an-hour hurricane today and threatened the British holiday island of Bermuda.

The Miami weather bureau reported in a 10:30 a. m. (EST) advisory that the storm was last located about 320 miles southeast of Bermuda and was moving on a northwest course at 15 miles an hour.

Reconnaissance planes that flew into the storm area this morning estimated highest winds at 90 miles an hour over a small area near the center and forecasters said gales extend 100 miles outward. Weathermen said the hurricane probably will increase in intensity during the next 12 to 18 hours and may swing to a more northerly course, which would carry it away from Bermuda and out to sea.

No storm alert has been issued for the island.

Ships in the path of the hurricane were warned to exercise caution.

The mid-morning weather advisory gave the exact position of the hurricane center at latitude 29.7, longitude 60.2.

Report Chinese Reds Have 150,000 Troops On Indo-China Line

HONG KONG, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Nationalist Chinese sources in Hong Kong said today that 150,000 Communist Chinese troops are concentrated along the border with French Indo-China.

The sources added that 470 trucks have been assembled at Liuchowfu to move arms and ammunition to the frontier area.

Recent successes by the Communist-led Viet Minh Rebels in French Indo-China have been attributed, in part, to alleged aid to the Rebels by Communist China.

Three North Korean Planes Make Attack

First To Show Up On War Front In More Than Month

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(INS)—The Air Force today reported that three North Korean planes—the first to show up in more than a month—have attacked United Nations forces at scattered points near the 38th parallel.

Air Force spokesmen said the planes were definitely Russian-made and were believed to be two-seater IL-10 attack planes.

Despite the presence of the three aircraft Air Force officials declared that "there is no indication of an (air) enemy buildup in the North Korean area."

Attacks LST
About 4 a. m., Korean time Friday, one plane attacked an LST off the island of Wolmi near the port of Inchon, another dropped two bombs in the vicinity of Kimp'o airfield near Seoul, and the third attacked in the area of the 8th South Korean Division near Yong-yang, 30 miles north of the 38th parallel.

The Air Force spokesman pointed out that there are numerous "little (air) strips up in the mountains we have never seen" where the North Koreans might have hidden their aircraft.

France Seeks Huge Arms Aid Lift From U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(INS)—American arsenals are open to French forces in Indo China today but U. S. leaders are only partially sold on a general French rearmament plan that would cost the U. S. three billion dollars next year.

A secret conference of top Franco-American military and finance spokesmen yesterday brought agreement on new arms for the war against Communist guerrillas in Indo China and enough U. S. materiel to outfit three new French divisions for the North Atlantic Pact.

These requests, plus the plan for a sweeping rearmament program for France were handed Defense Secretary Marshall, State Secretary Acheson and Secretary of the Treasury Snyder by French Defense Minister Moch and Finance Minister Pétache.

Must Be Scaled Down
Authoritative sources said that while the two officials won ready acceptance of the far eastern request, American leaders viewed the full rearmament program as too ambitious and urged that it would provide stop-gap aid until the overall arms program could be given further study. More details will be thrashed out at another session of the officials Monday.

Moch and Pétache detailed the total aid request as follows:

Confesses She Strangled Her Young Nephew

RICHMOND, Cal., Oct. 14.—(INS)—Police said today that an attractive young Richmond woman has confessed that she strangled her five-year-old nephew.

Dolores Gatto, 34, an insurance clerk, was held for investigation of murder after authorities said she told them she strangled a sock in the boy's mouth and twisted a scarf around his neck until he died.

She was quoted as saying she killed the child, Larry Holloway, because his mother was too ill to care for him. Police said Miss Gatto told them she also had planned to kill her sister and a second child but abandoned the idea.

Gen. MacArthur Is Awaiting Truman On Wake Island

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Oct. 14.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur flew to Wake Island in the Pacific today for his meeting with President Truman, arriving at the tiny island outpost at 6:03 p. m. local time (1:03 a. m. EST).

A short time later Mr. Truman boarded his plane, the "Independence," to fly the balance of the distance across the Pacific for the "end the war" conference with his supreme commander.

Gen. MacArthur's arrival at Wake on board his new constellations plane "Scrap" was marked in Tokyo by news bulletins from the North Korean fighting front telling of new victories against the Communist forces striving desperately to hold the capital city of Pyongyang.

60,000 Red Prisoners
Just before his departure for his initial face-to-face meeting with President Truman, Gen. MacArthur authorized a release indicating the extent of Communist demoralization within the last few days.

The statement said that 60,000 Communist prisoners are now in United Nations hands out of a total of 200,000 originally assigned to defend the 38th parallel, which MacArthur repeatedly has identified as a "non-existent" boundary.

Of this 60,000 total, 1,600 bedraggled North Koreans were put into encampments within the last 24 hours.

Bob Hope Gets Big Greeting In Tokyo Today

TOKYO, Oct. 14.—(INS)—A thousand GI's and a screaming American and Japanese bobbysoxers greeted comedian Bob Hope today on his arrival in Tokyo.

Hope and two plane loads of entertainers are bound for Korea to entertain troops on the fighting front.

The Far East Air Forces Band led by two teen-aged American drum majorettes played Boogie Woogie as Hope landed at Tokyo's Haneda airport, accompanied by Marilyn Maxwell, Les Brown and Hy Averbach.

Hope, grinning and joking, was almost crushed by the crowd pressing to get a look at the comedian. Pretty girls representing Japanese motion picture companies managed to get through the poster waving mob to push bouquets into Hope's hand.

South Koreans Seize Yonghung; 27 Miles Northwest Of Wonsan

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Oct. 14.—United Nations forces tightened a death squeeze on 68,000 North Korean Communist troops tonight with swift lunges through collapsing enemy lines toward the Red capital of Pyongyang.

A three-pronged crushing pincers offensive brought South Korean forces to within 55 air miles of Pyongyang at one point and 60 miles from the Red capital at a second. U. S. First Cavalry troops, slowed by enemy tank-led forces, were 64 miles to the south.

Yonghung Seized
Meanwhile, South Korean Third Division troops cut loose at almost a mile an hour pace to seize Yonghung, 27 miles northwest of captured Wonsan on the east coast after an 18-mile advance.

The Third Division is striking for Hungnam, important port and inland waterway center above Wonsan.

The South Korean Capital Division was reported in air reconnaissance reports to be only 60 miles from Pyongyang after taking Tongyang, 30 air miles directly west of Wonsan.

The South Korean First Division at noon today had advanced seven miles to Singye, 25 miles northeast of Kumsong and 55 air miles from Pyongyang.

Cut Escape Routes
The U. S. First Cavalry troops above Kumsong cut off enemy escape routes.

East Germans Vote Sunday

Reputed Threat Is Made By Russia

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Russia reportedly has threatened the East German Communist regime with a reduction in its already limited authority if the results in tomorrow's elections are not up to Moscow's standards.

The semi-official West Berlin newspaper Stadtblatt, said that anything less than a 95 per cent vote in favor of the Socialist Unity (Communist) slate will bring a "thorough revision of Soviet policy in Germany."

The new policy reportedly would include controls direct from the Kremlin.

On the other hand, the Kremlin was said to have told the East German regime that a satisfactory result would be rewarded with increased authority and the liquidation of all non-Communist parties.

In another pre-election development, thousands of Berlin residents battled Communist police with fists and stones last night and knocked one officer unconscious when East sector police tried to arrest an anti-Communist youth.

It's easy to cheer when the team's ahead and the other one's gone to pot, but the sportsman cheers when his team is behind and the outlook isn't so hot. You true blue fan will follow his team whether it's win or lose, and never he cries for the coach and never he sings the blues. The team may lose but that's all in the game, when it wins he's still a good sport; he doesn't boo and he doesn't cheer; a real fan isn't that sort. He follows his team and he cheers it on, in loss or in victory, and when it's behind then he really cheers; the weather is fine (by-three).

New Bedford Church Is Rededicated

Dr. J. W. Creighton of Westminster college was the principal speaker in the Friday evening sesqui-centennial service of the Hopewell Presbyterian church of New Bedford. The service was a part of the week long anniversary program being conducted in the church.

"An Old Word in a New Setting" was the theme of the address presented by the college man. A litany of rededication was read by the minister in which the following was the response of the congregation: "We rededicate this house as a place of prayer, as a place of spiritual light, as a place of communion and fellowship, as a place of service and brotherhood and a place of consecrated devotion. The rededication prayer was given by Rev. Arthur Walters of the First Presbyterian church of Hubbard, O.

Dr. Creighton, using the word sanctification, explained that it was an old word used by the early Presbyterians and if the old settlers could find meaning in it, the new generation likewise can do the same. He urged the congregation to get some of the spirit of those early settlers of 1800. A comparison of the times as far as laws and conditions was made. As the early church looked about and saw permanence in their possessions and church, he urged the members of Hopewell to likewise view the element of permanence. The congregation was urged to rededicate themselves to the purposes that the pioneers had set as their goal.

Special visitors at the Friday evening meeting were: Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Bailey and daughter of Bell Center, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bailey and daughter of Utica, N. Y.

Today, the program continues with a dinner and other events, with the communion service Sunday morning, terminating the special effort.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast!

lieve a world war is inescapable. The President, stopping in Hawaii for several hours before taking off for the history-making rendezvous with the commander in chief of the United Nations forces in Korea, said that he wanted to get the truth behind the Iron Curtain "without the use of guns."

The Chief Executive said that he would tell the world "what our policy is as it affects the world and world peace" in his foreign policy speech in San Francisco next Tuesday.

To Speak To U.N.

He added: "On the 24th of October I shall appear before the United Nations and try to drive the matter home."

Meanwhile, Gen. MacArthur flew to Wake, arriving at the tiny island about 6:30 a.m. on October 13. The President is due to reach the battle-scarred Pacific island Sunday night. Wake time, after crossing the International Date Line.

The pinpoint in the Pacific which has been selected for the meeting is well situated in addition to being historic. Wake was the first American soil to fall to the Japanese during World War II and was bravely defended by U.S. Marines for 16 days against unbelievable odds.

The island is almost exactly halfway between Honolulu and Tokyo, being 1,987 miles from Tokyo and 2,301 from Honolulu.

World War Not Inevitable

In Honolulu yesterday the President said:

"I am not one of those who think another world war is inevitable. I am sure the people behind the Iron Curtain are just as anxious for world peace as we are."

"If we could just get the truth behind the Iron Curtain I am sure they would never want to wage war."

"I am going to drive this home to them without the use of guns."

Today's meeting will be the first time the President and Gen. MacArthur have met face-to-face. During World War II MacArthur conferred with President Roosevelt in Honolulu, the last time he has personally reported to his commander-in-chief.

That some new major change in policy toward Russia for the purpose of world peace might come out of the conference was indicated when Truman said:

To Tell Of Policy

"It is necessary for me to return to San Francisco and tell the world what our policy is as it affects the world and world peace."

Truman's off-the-cuff speech yesterday was made at a luncheon in the commissioned officers mess before high officials of the Army, Navy and Territory of Hawaii.

Gen. MacArthur flew to Wake from Tokyo in the Constellation Scap. He was accompanied by John J. Muccio, U.S. ambassador to South Korea, and three of his Allied headquarters staff members.

President Truman used his personal plane, the Independence, for the flight that went a third of the way around the globe.

Alongside the gleaming silver and blue Independence was another plane, filled with high officials from the State and Army departments who would assist the President.

cape routes to the north but were meeting stiff resistance at several points. An Eighth Army spokesman revealed that the Fifth, Seventh and Eighth Regiments of the First Cavalry have made solid contact along the north-south road from Kaesong to Hanpuri but the highway still was under harassing fire from enemy troops entrenched on high ground.

In the center of the peninsula one regiment of the South Korean Eighth Division captured Honjori, five miles north of Ichon, without resistance.

Latest news of U. N. military advances in the North Korean front coincided with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's flight to Wake Island for a history-making conference with President Truman.

Block Enemy's Attempts

International News Service War Correspondent John Rich, accompanying the U. S. First Cavalry Division on its drive northward from captured Kumsong toward Pong-yang, said that U. N. forces had "blocked all attempts" by the enemy to withdraw from the city or to reinforce it.

Seven Communist tanks were seized by the cavalymen moving in from the east and the enemy was reported in disorder in some sectors, with college students drafted into war duty endeavoring to surrender over orders of their higher officers in the line.

In a Saturday morning briefing session a short while before Gen. MacArthur left his headquarters in the Dai Tchi building for Wake, an official spokesman ran down the list of Communist losses in Korea.

Enemy losses 258,000. He estimated that the enemy has lost 258,000 men from all causes since the invasion across the 38th parallel on June 25 and that the North Koreans now have only 68,000 troops in "fighting shape" across the boundary.

The spokesman said that the North Korean 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 13th Divisions "have been destroyed beyond hope of survival."

He added that the crack 9th North Korean Division has ended up as casualties or prisoners, although a partial re-creation has been effected and replacements are still in battle.

The total North Korean losses since the start of the war and up to midnight October 12 included enemy troops killed or wounded in air strikes as well as ground battle. Capture of Kumsong, 11 miles north of the 38th parallel, followed new bombardments of the North Korean east coast by the battleship Missouri and assisting Allied sea-craft.

Ecumenical Mass Meeting Here Sunday

Members of all congregations of Protestant churches in Lawrence county will assemble in Epworth Methodist church, East Washington street at Butler avenue, this city, for a mass meeting Sunday afternoon, October 15, at 2:45 o'clock. At that time the ecumenical register of women and girls in Lawrence county will be dedicated at an appropriate service.

The ecumenical register has been conducted this week in our county as well as other parts of the United States. The local enrollment was conducted under auspices of the New Castle Panel of the United Council of Church Women, of which Mrs. J. F. Rentz is president.

The ecumenical register is a project of the United Council of Church Women. As there are ten million Protestant church women connected with the United Council, someone asked the question, "Who are they and can they be counted?"

Seek Million
The United Council's desire is to find at least one million women who will enroll and contribute a dollar to be used in the united work of Protestant churches. The register also shows the appreciation of what has been done in Christian activities and the effective place of women in the church.

After the enrollment has been completed in our country, the full registration will be taken to the National Assembly in Cincinnati, O., November 13-16. This money will be taken to Cleveland, O., where it will be part of the budget when the United Council of Church Women becomes the General Department of Women's Work of the National Council of the Churches of Christ of the United States of America which will take place November 29-December 1.

It is expected that there will be 1,500 women enrolled in Lawrence county.

Church Women Will Register

Be one of the first million women and girls to take part in the ecumenical register of Protestant women.

What are the reasons for having ecumenical register?

One reason for conducting the enrollment of church women is to provide funds for new responsibilities and obligations as well as for projects long hoped for, aid will also be given to the states so that local councils may grow in united Christian service. The United Council of Church Women will participate in the World Council of Churches and will be ready for new opportunities of Christian service.

The ecumenical register is being conducted this week in Lawrence county and all over the United States.

U. S. SEEKS TO EXTENDS TERM OF U. N. SECRETARY GENERAL

lounges and corridors. Russian delegates like A. A. Arutunian are suggesting that a candidate from top levels outside of routine U. N. figures is needed.

They are dropping hints that a statesman like Pandit Nehru of India or one of his closest "apostles" should be drafted for the job.

A formal resolution offering Lie a five-year extension is being drafted and has been assured United States support along with that of several other governments in the Security Council who voted for the renewal of the Norwegian's term. Russia upset the appeal by vetoing it.

Western sources stress that dropping Lie would leave U. N. without a secretary general and cause confusion and extensive damage to the world organization, which they believe is the hidden Russian motive.

It is estimated that after dealing with the extension of Lie's term, the General Assembly could then swing into the task of giving final approval to the American-drafted plan for crushing aggressions anywhere in the world by empowering the Assembly to call for troops from any of the 60 members.

Hope talked to some of the wounded men, all of them from the Fifth Marine Regiment which spearheaded the bloody battle for Seoul.

The comedian asked Maj. Robert Calland of Columbus, O., whose legs were in casts up to his thighs, how he had been wounded.

The Marine officer replied: "A mortar sort of exploded between my legs, but I'm going to be okay now. I'm certainly glad to see you, Mr. Hope."

Hope was silent for a moment, then grinned and said:

"You're lucky you're going home. I'm just starting out."

NO PLACE TO HIDE?

Anyone who has read in news dispatches of the air force "bombing by radar through the overcast" in Korea has probably been wondering why the Russians couldn't do the same in this country. The answer is that the Russians could, and probably would if given the chance.

The point came up during a conference of mayors the other day in Washington. The question of "blackouts" had been raised, and a Defense Department spokesman pointed out that complete dousing of all lights, such as was enforced along the coastline during the last war, doesn't have a place in defense planning.

The reason is that visual sight of a target is no longer necessary when electronic scanning "eyes" are doing the looking.

Some of the tricks used during the last war might still be useful, however. The Germans built elaborate replicas of some of their vital industrial areas at varying distances from the target cities. Early in the war British and American bombers were led astray by the decoy cities and plastered open fields and woodlands with their lethal loads.

Civil defense officials feel that deceptive patterns of lighting might be used just in case an enemy's radar gear isn't too accurate. But blackouts can no longer be considered an effective defense.

News like this is likely to leave the civilian with the feeling that there is no place to hide. To a certain extent that is so. But it must be remembered that the signal success of the air force is strategic bombing in Korea was against an enemy whose defenses were more primitive. Despite this, it behooves the nation to get its civilian defenses in the best order as quickly as possible.

POLITICAL STRATEGISTS IN CONFUSION

To put it mildly, the political strategists of both parties are in a state of confusion and wonder as to what changes, if any, the November elections will produce. Republican and Democratic party spokesmen have gone through the routine of saying they expect whopping victories at the polls. Neither side, it is safe to say, is anywhere as confident as those standard-brand prognostications would indicate.

The primaries have not demonstrated much of anything. Both pro-Truman and anti-Truman candidates have won. The New Hampshire primary was watched with the greatest interest, where pro-Truman Senator Tobey ran against an anti-Truman war veteran. Senator Tobey made the grade, but by a very scant margin. In the Maine election, the GOP candidates, as usual, won in a walk. Elsewhere results were indecisive.

The Democratic position will be much the same as it was last time. It will be argued that the president is the friend of the masses of the people and the enemy of the exploiters, and that his program is just what the country needs. It will be necessary to elect a strongly Democratic Congress, the argument will continue, to give him the support he must have. The Taft-Hartley law will undoubtedly take a verbal beating, as a bid is made for the important labor vote. The Brannan plan will get its full share of praise, as an inducement to the farmer to stay on the Democratic side of the ticket.

The dismissal of Secretary Johnson, a bare two weeks after the president said that he would keep that official on for the duration of his administration, is a straw in the wind. Public and congressional opinion had flared up against Mr. Johnson to the point where, the political high command decided, he was an impossible liability to the party. General Marshall, with his vast prestige and splendid record, was from that point of view a perfect choice.

The Republicans have plenty of ammunition goes without saying. The vast change for the better in the Korean situation does not detract from the fact that we were utterly unprepared for a war there. The right-about-face that the administration has made in Asiatic policy provides the GOP with a potent weapon. Great criticism will be made of the administration's demand that private citizens retrench when it continues domestic spending at an increasing rate while piling on top of it an unprecedented number of billions—$30,000,000,000 for the next fiscal year alone—for military purposes. The basic Republican argument will be that the Democrats have at last proven themselves utterly incapable of guiding this country through the period of strain and grave danger that lies ahead. The Republican leaders feel that there is evidence that this belief has grown in the grass-roots. Whether it has grown to a sufficient extent to change the control of Congress is what no one knows. And that is what will make the coming elections unusually interesting as well as vitally important.

A Pennsylvanian hurt his shoulder spanking his son. To Junior that smacks of poetic justice.

This country originally favored pursuit of happiness. Now politicians propose to catch it for the people.

After the protracted talkfest they have engaged in, members of Congress should be in fine fettle for the campaign.

Because the squirrel's tail is big and bushy, the country is in for a long, cold winter—unless the goose's wishbone decrees otherwise, that is.

Truman-MacArthur Conference

The whole idealistic and original concept of the United Nations as a true forum of world peace rather than a forum of international disension was brought sharply to mind as the hour approached for President Truman's momentous meeting with Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Pacific.

It is simple and easy to consider this as a conference between the chief executive of the United States and his commander-in-chief in the Orient.

More Complicated
It is a trifle more complicated to remember that in point of fact the meeting is between the American president and the officially designated military commander of the United Nations.

Gen. MacArthur, in all his disposition of allied forces below and above the 38th parallel and in his massing of equipment for ground, naval and air attack, has given most meticulous attention to honors and dangers for all involved.

The blue and white flag of the United Nations has been emblematic of both setbacks and victories. It has been rare indeed in the history of the United States for the United Kingdom for that matter—that a single international flag has been accorded the position of distinction given to that of the world organization.

Yet with Mr. Truman on a flight to a Pacific base that within a short space of time will bring him back to San Francisco, the initial idealism of the U. N. is brought back sharply to the public mind.

Five Years Ago
It is five years and a few months ago that delegates to the victorious allied powers, seemingly cemented in a friendship and cooperation rendered inviolate by sacrifice and bloodshed, met in the teeming California metropolis to draft the charter. The name then was UNIO— an almost forgotten alphabetical arrangement. It stood for United Nations conference for international organization. As distinguished representatives gathered in the San Francisco War Memorial Opera House, named for the first world war whose scars had hardly healed—there was an atmosphere of high hope and of grandiose achievements ahead.

The charter was framed, laboriously, but always full of hope. The late premier field marshal Jan Christian Smuts of South Africa put his magnificent rhetorical ability and his soul dedicated to the "oneness" of mankind into its preamble.

And it was not without deep purpose that the "Slim Jan" who so recently has passed from the scene of mankind borrowed from the American Declaration of Independence to start out with the immortal words:

Course Chartered
"We the people . . ."
It is inevitable that President Truman on his return to San Francisco after the meeting with MacArthur has charted the immediate and future course of the U. S. and the U. N. in the Far East, will recall the historic episodes of half a decade ago.

Observers close to the president on his Pacific journey indicate that he harbors a deep conviction that this is the time for a reaffirmation of faith in the United Nations, and San Francisco may very likely be the place for his re-dedication.

Recent events at Flushing Meadows, where a mounting movement is in progress to strengthen the powers of the General Assembly and eliminate to some extent at least the stranglehold of the Security Council veto, seem to bear this out.

It will be recalled that during the founding days of the United Nations, the veto was a power insisted upon not only by the Soviet Union but the United States as well.

Only Safety Valve
It comprised the only safety valve that could ensure adoption of U. N. principles by the United States Senate as a guarantee against the inherent rights of the American nation in time of any treaty being usurped by a combination of foreign nations.

The passage of years has been the veto abused by the Kremlin; they have witnessed the Security Council passing into the role of a powerhouse in Soviet hands, with the ultimate interests and desires of smaller nations thrown by the wayside.

Now the assembly is on the road to being re-created as a "House of Representatives" for all the peoples of the world, and the Truman-MacArthur conference at a moment of world crisis is symbolic of this organization's ability to operate for the benefit of all mankind.

For months the United Nations has been at the crossroad of utter failure or brilliant triumph. The odds at the moment are that President Truman will be able to announce that the latter has won the gamble.

Folks Of Fame

Earle Williams former stage and screen actor was born in Sacramento, Cal. He spent some time playing in stock companies and began his screen career with "The Grell Mystery." Back in the early 20's his name appeared in the Motion Picture directory in black type. He was that "black type" Hillman. "The Seal of Silence." "The Girl in His House." "An American Live Wire" were some of his earlier pictures. "The Hornet's Nest," "The Wolf," "The Black Gate," "The Fortune Hunter," "Captain Swift," "The Eternal Struggle," "Jealous Fools" were later ones. He is not now in pictures, but some of you should remember him.

He obtained passage of the Colorado juvenile court law that same year, which led to the reform of juvenile court procedures in treating delinquent children. In 1927 he moved to California and was elected judge of that state's superior court. He was an internationally known jurist and an advocate of "non-annular marriage," and author of a number of books, "Problems of the Children" and "Children in Bondage" were two of his books. THEY HATE BECAUSE THEY FEAR

Those Moving Days

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

Since I wrote of my intentions to move to New York, I have had fewer than 17 transfer companies have kindly written offering to pack and wrap my furniture.

I appreciate their consideration but I cannot help but laugh at the idea of me paying good money for such a service.

Most of the men now working for moving companies were not born when I was recognized throughout Georgia as a child prodigy at wrapping and packing furniture.

My father was a Baptist minister and during my childhood we made more moves than you'll get in five more moves than a bowl of hot checker games. Fly over Georgia checker games. Fly over Georgia checker games. Fly over Georgia checker games.

Didn't Use Them Then
There were packers and movers in those days, too, but the McLeMores didn't use them. Papa, mama, and the five children, through years of practice, became welded into a swift, sure, hard-hitting packing unit that clicked with military precision.

The furniture and the books worked with us, too. So accustomed they were to travelling from town to town that old rocking chairs would back up to get wrapped in newspaper and the books, once a box was placed under the shelves, would tumble off and arrange themselves.

You won't believe me, I am sure, but two living room lamps used to save burlap and twine themselves so as to be ready for a quick departure to another town.

The furniture and the books worked with us, too. So accustomed they were to travelling from town to town that old rocking chairs would back up to get wrapped in newspaper and the books, once a box was placed under the shelves, would tumble off and arrange themselves.

From cups and saucers I worked up to plates, and from plates advanced to soup tureens, until I had reached an age and proficiency where I could be trusted with a chair or a table.

Fresh In My Memory
Those packing days are as fresh in my memory as if they were yesterday. Kind neighbors would always come in to help, and how glad we were to have them. Not only because they helped to get the job done, but because when things were unwrapped at the end of the journey any damage could be blamed on them.

I suppose I blamed Mrs. Hightower and Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Thompson and Brother Jones for a hundred scratches and breaks which were the cause of my own haste when itching to get finished and get out to play baseball. Just to see my hand had lost its skill, I tried wrapping a chair an hour or so ago. I was pleased to find that the newspaper and twine fairly flew beneath my fingers, and in no time at all I had it ready for shipment. I would be willing to bet, so sure am I that I have not forgotten the old know-how, that when that chair reached New York it can be repaired by any competent cabinet maker in three days.

Modern packing is a marvel, they tell me. Men with degrees bring in sterile pads and wrap everything without human hands touching a thing. I salute such progress, but I want no part of it. I want to recapture my childhood, with excelsior, newspaper, twine, and worn-out quilts and blankets. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

George Baker, author of "The Deadly Parallel" brought home this story from London: At the Russo-Turkish border a Red army sentry encountered a Turkish sentry, and an exchange of pleasantries ensued. "What do you do about the food problem in Russia?" asked the Turk. "I hear you have shortages."

"Everything is taken care of," declared the Russian. "If my wife wants bread she stands in line for two hours, surrenders four coupons, and gets a loaf of bread. If she wants sugar she stands in line for six hours, gives up ten coupons, and gets a cupful of sugar. How is it in Turkey?" "We don't have to go through any such rigmarole," the Turkish sentry assured him. "When my wife wants any kind of food she goes to a shop, buys as much as she wants, and that's that." The Russian sentry was deeply impressed. The next morning he told his commanding officer. "We'll have to improve our propaganda. The Turkish line is ten times more effective than ours."

Spanish Bullfight

By PAUL GALICO

BARCELONA, SPAIN, Oct. 14.—There have been a number of very fine treatises, including the one by ol' Pa Hemingway on the corrida or Spanish bullfight, but in none of these do I remember ever coming across the piece of vital information concerning what happens to the bull after he has been pierced by the matador's sticker and is dragged from the ring by the team of horses caparisoned with bells.

I am now prepared to make up this deficiency. And it ain't no guesswork, brothers and sisters. I've had him. So it happens on a Monday on the Paseo de Colon, a very fine restaurant indeed, and we are tying into something that looks, smells and tastes like goulash, a mess the Missus is very fond of, hailing originally from the Danube. And we say to the dame who runs the joint, a looker named Suzy, "My, but this is good. What kind of meat is this?"

"Remember That Second Boal?"
So Suzy says, "Aha! You like? That ees good. You go to see boal fight yesterday at the Plaza del Toros?"

We allowed as how we had looked in for a little while upon the boal fight.

"You remembair second boal who make sood good fight and step a leetle on matador's face just before he is keel."

We admitted that this second boal had managed to make a considerable impression upon us.

"This is he!" Suzy thereupon announced. "You are having him now. You like?"

Never did see the Missus lose her appetite for goulash quite that fast!

Truth to tell we had conceived a considerable affection for that little black bull the afternoon before and when it was finally massacred we mourned him as a fellow sufferer upon this planet whose spirit we understood, whose courage we admired and whose bad luck we deplored.

To begin with, when pushed into the inclosure he wanted no part of fighting anybody, and particularly not those dressed-up, bespangled parties in pigtails. It was a hot Sunday afternoon, and he wanted peace and quiet like the rest of us on earth, except that the Russians—excuse me, I mean the foredoers wouldn't let him because they wanted to use him to show off.

So the first thing he did was scramble over the barrier, climb up into the $12.00 seats and try to watch the rest of the show from there. They discouraged this and pushed him back into the arena and set about the usual torture designed to set him up for the execution.

Lost The Jackpot
But what really endeared the stout little fellow to us was when the matador got cocky and a little too wide for his britches and tried a pass kneeling. In one shake, br'er boal had him in the dust. He missed him with his horns, thus losing the jackpot, but he did manage to fall on him and roll over before the other guys ran out and teased him off.

My dearly beloved clients, customers and fellow lovers of the square shake, that was the flattest matador you ever did see. He was rolled out in the dust just like his own shadow. The Missus wanted to go right down into the arena and kiss that boal. They could have draped that matador over him like a blanket. In fact we figured that the boal having won, they would.

But no, they picked the guy up, pumped some air back into him, dusted him off and let him go out and stab the boal anyway. It sort of made us both a little sad, because you would have thought that since the boal had scored a touchdown, they would at least have let him go home.

So we've got half our dinner down before we know it is our little pal we have inside of us. And since the matador is still shaken up from having the boal steam-roller him, he doesn't do a very pretty job of the sticking and misses the first time and even then they don't let the boal off, patch him up and send him back to the farm where he wanted to go in the first place. Nope. They finish the big-hearted little fellow off, and all of a sudden I'm his cemetery. Yipe!

"Al Barcelona is eating boal today," Suzy explains. (Distributed by United Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

This year's winner of the Miss America beauty contest is quoted as having said to reporters: "I have no time for love. I am too busy with my career."

By coincidence, a newspaperman came across a clipping dated 1925 announcing the Miss America contest winner of that year.

In the 25-year-old history is quoted as having said to reporters: "I have no time for love. I am too busy with my career."

Fortunately (I hope) the ever increasing contests for Miss This and that of the year are over for 1950.

There must have been a hundred of them at least. Each of the hundred winners was photographed and interviewed, and made immortal statements to the press.

Analyzing the statements one would think that the intelligence of the average beauty contest winner is approximately that of the pumpkin, apple, cherry, cucumber or whatever it was she represented.

I received a letter from a reader in Norristown, Pa., which made me ask myself "Where ARE the prettiest girls in the country?"

Certainly they are not the beauty contest winners.

Beauty is not legs, bathing suits, a shapely figure, sex appeal.

Beauty is not just body. Beauty is a combination of many things.

My Norristown correspondent writes:

"A man who has traveled over this U. S. A. said that you can see more beautiful girls in Norristown to the square yard than in Hollywood to the square mile. That is true."

"The raves of moviedom and TV don't begin to measure up to the girls we see every day going to sports of various occupations."

"Youth can be lovely when dressed in taste, not sloppy or careless."

I admire the lady for considering the girls in her home town the most beautiful in the U. S. A. That is just it—"home town." Beauty is the way you look at it. Home town beauty is personal.

It is something which touches your heart.

The chances are that my Norristown reader KNOWS a lot of the lovely girls whom she sees going to "sports or various occupations."

She knows the girls' backgrounds, she has seen them grow from little tots into lovely young womanhood.

Their beauty is not caused by bathing-suit or make-up. They are not expecting prizes and publicity.

By that reasoning EVERY town in the country has the most beautiful girls in the U. S. A.

You have seen ugly ducklings made into "glamorous girls" by professional beauticians.

But all a beautician can do is to create beauty to be LOOKED at. Real beauty is the beauty to be LIVED with.

Where ARE the most beautiful girls in America?

In YOUR home town! (Copyright, 1950, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Health Talks

WHY EAT HAY?
Protein is a very necessary article in our diet.

Babies and boys and girls need it for building material.

Old people need it too. They are not growing much but are in need of repairs and replacements.

There are two sources of protein, the animal and the vegetable.

Meat, eggs and milk are perhaps our best providers of protein.

It takes a lot of chewing to get as much protein from vegetables as we get from an egg or a piece of meat.

Bossy cow has plenty of time to chew the hay. She has plenty of stomach capacity too. She can lie down and think things over while she makes our protein for us.

Some Unusual Happenings In Nation On Friday 13th

By FREEMAN FULBRIGHT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

A New Jersey man, Rensel Tull of Lakewood, scrambled 7,200 eggs while driving his truck through the Jersey City approach of the Holland tunnel.

A Kansas City, Mo., woman, Mrs. Hazel Anderson, hunted a new home for herself and her 50 cats, several dogs and 25 chickens because of an eviction notice.

A woman in Flippin, Ga., Mrs. Ernest Chase, drew the perfect bridge hand, 13 spades, a million to one shot.

All were minor news stories but the date magnified their value—they all occurred on Friday the 13th.

And there were others. John M. (Blackie) Sullivan, bullet-scarred "clay pigeon" of the underworld, was taken for another one-way ride, this time by the Chicago police who dumped him at the Illinois-Wisconsin border and told him to "stay out".

Electrical wires in the basement under the Chicago fire department headquarters burst into flames. Two hundred dollars damage was caused before they were extinguished. City hall telephone operators admonished all callers to "observe fire prevention week". Posters in the fire department carried the same message.

The door of an automatic elevator slammed shut on the neck of an 18-year-old Chicago messenger boy, George Haidl, and he was imprisoned for an hour before building employees freed him. He suffered minor injuries. Haidl had opened the door to peer down the shaft.

King Levinsky, the famous boxer turned salesman, was accused in a Chicago court suit of untying the marital knot binding a couple. Mrs. Bessie Phillips, the plaintiff said Levinsky helped alienate her husband's affections.

And the temperature in Los Angeles rose to 104 degrees, a new record for this time of year.

Trinity Episcopal Festival On Sunday

On Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock service of prayer at Trinity Episcopal church, the traditional Harvest Festival will be celebrated. At this time each year members of the parish take "brown bags," filled with foods and household articles, for use at St. Barnabas' House and Free Home, North East, Pa. Special envelopes are also provided for cash donations toward the operation of the home.

The home is for incurable men and boys, there being approximately 80 at the present time, for whom everything must be provided; it is operated on a free will offering basis. The Brother hood of St. Barnabas, a lay monastic order, conducts the work both at North East in the Diocese of Erie and at Gibsonia in the Diocese of Pittsburgh.

Brother Willard, O.S.B., the Brother in charge at North East, will preach the sermon at the service on Sunday.

New 'Artery Bank' Saves Woman's Life

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Mrs. Arley Joan Sutton, attractive 19-year-old wife of an Air Force corporal, is alive and well today thanks to a new "artery bank" at Walter Reed Military hospital.

When Mrs. Sutton was found to be afflicted with coarctation, a narrowing of the main artery just below its loop over the heart, doctors removed the affected section and replaced it with a piece of artery taken from the body of a man who had died 27 days before.

Four surgeons worked six hours to complete the delicate operation, which was pronounced a complete success.

First Methodist And First Presbyterian Churches Offer This Opportunity

TEACHER—Dr. Blanche Carrier, Professor of Psychology from Westminster College

BEGINNING—This Sabbath in First Presbyterian Church at 9:45 a. m. (promptly)

(Please Note: This class will dismiss in time for members of other churches to attend their own church for morning worship.)

Missionaries To Appear In Costume Sunday Afternoon

A great missionary platform rally will feature the closing day of the annual missionary convention of the Alliance Gospel tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

Appearing on the platform, dressed in costume, will be: Mrs. B. H. Alexander of China, Mrs. Frederick A. Smith of Colombia, South America, and Miss Sallie P. Botham and Miss Cecelia Lewis of French West Africa. During the service the annual missionary pledge offering will be taken. Last year the church pledged over $8,000 to the work of foreign missions.

Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock Rev. E. D. Pinney of Beaver Falls, Western Pennsylvania assistant district superintendent, will speak on "The Urgency of Missions." The service will be preceded by Bible school at 9:30 a. m.

Young Peoples hour will be omitted at 6:30 in order that a full attendance may be had at the 7:30 o'clock service, when Mrs. B. H. Alexander will bring the closing missionary address and Rev. Pinney will complete the lifting of the pledge offering. This evening at 7:30 Rev. Herbert Dyke of Hawthorne, Calif., will be heard.

Youth For Christ Will Meet Bi-Weekly

Services of the New Castle Youth for Christ are planned for every other week with no service scheduled for this evening, the director, Rev. F. Dickson Marshall, announced.

The first service of the season was conducted last Saturday night with a good audience in attendance. The next meeting is planned October 22 at First Baptist church.

Dr. Blanche Carrier Will Lecture Here

Dr. Blanche Carrier, professor of psychology at Westminster college, will present a series of twelve lectures on "Building a Christian Community."

Dr. Carrier is being sponsored by First Methodist and First Presbyterian churches of this city. She is going to present the kind of material which was so successfully used by Dr. Roy Burkhardt of Columbus, O., and which has been written up in many national periodicals. A fine group of books to accompany this course will be on the reserved shelf in the public library.

The class is open to all persons regardless of church affiliation. It will be conducted each Sunday in the sanctuary of First Presbyterian church. We urge parents especially to take advantage of this new course. If you belong to another church you will be dismissed in plenty of time to return to your own church for the morning worship service.

Church Pastors To Have Union Series

"Do You Know Your Bible?" will be the new series of Sunday evening messages delivered by Dr. R. F. Galbreath and Rev. J. A. Gaiser. The first of this series of messages on Bible study will be given this Sunday evening in the First Presbyterian church at 7:30 p. m. Rev. James A. Gaiser will bring something of the background material on the Old Testament.

The pastors of First Methodist and First Presbyterian churches believe that many people in this generation have failed to know their Bible and therefore this Sunday evening hour is being given for this purpose.

Your New Social Security

By MYRON MILBOUER

(Manager of the New Castle Social Security Office)

(NUMBER 12)

Under the new social security law, the term "employee" has been redefined. Under this new definition approximately 400,000 persons will be brought under social security through this extension of occupational coverage.

On January first, a full-time life insurance salesman will begin building toward old-age and survivors insurance benefits. So will agents or commission drivers engaged in distributing meat, vegetable, fruit or bakery products, agent or commission drivers engaged in laundry or dry-cleaning services will come under social security. Also, those distributing beverages (other than milk).

Both traveling and city salesmen, working on a full-time basis, are brought under the new social security law. This will not include, however, a salesman's side-line sales for some other person. To be covered by the new social security in these occupations, the worker must perform the services individually, and he must not have a substantial investment in the business for which he is engaged as a salesman or distributor. Moreover, a person engaged for a single sales or distribution transaction would not be covered. The worker must be employed continuously to be eligible for social security coverage.

Home workers, that is, persons who do the work not in a plant or a factory, but in their own place of residence, are now covered by social security also. The work must be done according to specifications furnished by the person for whom the services are performed, and that employer must supply the material or goods on which the employee works at home. This kind of work is subject to regulation under the law of the state in which the home worker lives. The meaning of "currently" and "fully" insured status will be the topic of my next article.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By FR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Peg and Disc Puzzle

Here's a puzzle that can be made with few tools and little material. It's one that will last, too. The youngsters will like to bring it out to see whether visitors can find its secret.

Materials needed are three-ply wood, coping saw, compass, ruler, pencil, 3/4" and 3/8" drills and bit, brace, 3/8" dowel stick, glue and sandpaper.

The baseboard is made 9 3/4" by 3 1/4". Four pegs 3/4" long are cut from the dowel. Four holes equidistant are drilled in the center of the baseboard and the pegs set in with glue. Then, seven discs of varying sizes with holes bored in the center of each are made in the following diameters: 3", 2 3/4", 2 1/2", 2 1/4", 2", 1 3/4" and 1 1/2". These should be sanded and can be stained or painted in different colors.

The problem is to move the discs, which have been placed on one peg starting with the largest at the bottom and going up to the smallest at the top, to one of the other pegs, keeping them in the same order. Only one disc may be moved at a time and at no time should a larger disc be placed on top of a smaller one.

Senate Probers Meet "Iron Curtain" In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14—(INS)—Senate crime committee investigators threatened contempt citations today in an effort to cut through an iron curtain of silence drawn by reluctant witnesses.

They said steps will be taken to cite Harry ("Nig") Rosen, alleged kingly numbers racketeer whose circle of cronies lists the hierarchy of the nation's underworld, and served blunt notice that other silent witnesses would receive similar treatment.

Sen. Herbert O'Connor (D) Md., a committee member, announced that Willie Weisberg, reportedly one of Rosen's chief lieutenants, would be the first witness in today's hearings at the federal court house in Philadelphia.

The hearings opened yesterday on a black Friday the 13th for Rosen. They brought out testimony that Rosen, operating from New York, rules a Quaker City numbers empire running into "millions and millions of dollars".

BUILDING HITS BACK

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—Glen D. Kiel, 24, told police all he did was put on the brakes and a building fell on him. Witnesses backed up his story. They said Kiel skidded on some car tracks, jumped a curb and knocked out the supports of a construction company building.

Court House

Court Term Over,
None Next WeekJurors Notified,
Will Not Serve

With the exception of finishing a case before Judge W. Walter Braham in court room No. 1, the Oct. term of Civil Court finished Friday.

The case at issue in court room No. 1 was that of Camille Maitland Monroe versus Arthur and Sara Shaw Keagrice of Neshannock township. The case is one in which the plaintiff proposes to eject the defendants from property in the township she claims is hers. In the case of the Eureka Casualty company against Albert Gabriel, a verdict of $13.50 was awarded the plaintiff. This was a case where the company claimed the defendant owed a substantial sum as a premium on a policy.

Lewis A. Rice was awarded $178.15 for damages to his car caused when the car of Benjamin Jones, Jr., of Lucerne Mine, Pa., hit it on the night of January 16, 1949.

Mrs. Jones was driving west on Garfield and as he crossed Highland avenue his car and that of Arthur Brunton, coming down Highland, collided. Mr. Brunton was killed. Mr. Jones' car careened across Highland into Garfield and struck the car of Mr. Rice which was parked.

The case of Lily Saunders, Bertram Saunders and Verna Saunders against Lawrence Raykovics and William V. Gibson was settled before it went to the jury. By agreement Lily Saunders is awarded $3,350 and Bertram and Verna Saunders, parents, are awarded $650. This was an automobile damage case.

All jurors save those sitting in the case on trial were paid off, the total coming to $1,010.36. The 12 men and women still serving will get about $200 for their services which brings the total jury cost for the week to something over $2,300. Jurors are paid $5 per day and in the case of citizens living outside the city, six cents per mile travel allowance.

ASKS CONFISCATION

Another petition to confiscate has been presented to the court by District Attorney Sherman K. Levine. In this one he asks to confiscate $86.31, found in the possession of a numbers writer. This makes six petitions for confiscation which have been presented for slot machines, adding machines, liquor and money. They are returnable the first Monday of November.

Among the marriage license applications on Friday was one filed by two young people who have been in this country less than two years. Franc Vrekar and Pauline Kette, both of Bessemer filed for a license. Both are from Yugoslavia. Both have filed petitions to become citizens of the United States of America. Eyes Cause Of
Most HeadachesBy ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Oct. 14—As far as headaches are concerned, the "eyes" definitely have it.

Dr. Albert D. Ruedemann, professor of ophthalmology at Wayne University, Detroit, estimated today 25 per cent of all headaches, one of mankind's most common and persistent ailments, are caused by eye trouble.

The Detroit doctor noted in an article in the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association that most eyes are over-used or used under poor lighting conditions.

Various and seemingly unrelated types of headaches Dr. Ruedemann pointed out, can be traced to eyes. He cited as possible victims of eye troubles:

Possible Victims

The girl with the nervous breakdown; the child who is inattentive; the businessman who has a headache at noon which is relieved by lunch and then returns late in the afternoon; the clock watcher and the student who cannot concentrate.

He added these persons probably could be aided by "medical exercises surgical treatment, glasses or all three."

"More patients," said Dr. Ruedemann, "consult medical clinics because of headaches than for any other single complaint, and for the same reason they most frequently consult an oculist."

"There is probably more medicine sold for headaches than for any other condition. Some of the large drug concerns build up tremendous fortunes by relieving the ordinary headache."

"Near-sighted persons do not have headaches or head pain unless they are abusing their eyes."

Farsighted persons, on the other hand, are apt to have frontal headaches which are moderate to severe and occur almost daily late in the afternoon or early in the evening.

Dr. Ruedemann said this condition is easily recognized and treated. He said another common type of headache is caused by an "inequality in the amount of error in the two eyes."

from bruises received in a recent fall in her home.

Mrs. D. C. Yoho, of East Washington street, New Castle, was a recent visitor in the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. L. McHattie and family of R. D. 1, New Galilee.

Wyoming oil drillers have gone down as far as 30,000 feet, a new record.

Business Activity
Showing Increase

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—(INS)—The Federal Reserve bank of Philadelphia declared today that rearmament and the Korean war has increased business activity in the third federal reserve district.

The bank noted in its publication on business trends that department store sales tapered off in August from the "scare buying" peak of July but continued buoyant.

In response to rising business requirements, the output of both anthracite and bituminous coal was increased, as was the volume of bank loans.

The publication added that iron and steel plants, which had been running near top capacity for months, managed to increase production, and cement mills also are in high gear.

TEN New Credit Controls Will Become Effective Monday

By WILLIAM KERWIN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Buyers of cars, furniture and home appliances get their last chance for easy credit today. New government regulations prescribing more money down and less time to pay goes into effect Monday.

The new credit controls, bolstering inflation check-reins imposed Sept. 18, are generally not as tough as World War II buying curbs. But with only 60 shopping days left until Christmas, they are expected to cut into the usual high tide of yuletide trade.

Car buyers get the sternest deal. After midnight Sunday, they will have to meet installment terms equalling the stiffest imposed in the auto market during the war: one third down, with 15 months instead of the present 21, to pay off the balance.

On Home Appliances

On home appliances, the new rule is 25 per cent down and 15 months to pay. Under the September curbs, the schedule was 15 per cent initially and 18 months to settle the balance.

Furniture buyers from Monday on will have to lay out a 15 per cent down payment and make the last installment within 15 months. Formerly the rule was 10 per cent and 18 months.

Chairman Thomas B. McCabe of the Federal Reserve Board, which handles control machinery, said the new regulations were brought on by reports that the September controls have done little to curb the nation wide inflation spiral.

The board, however, made no change in the earlier regulation's requirement of home improvements of 10 per cent down and a 30-month installment period.

New Rule Requirement

But its new rule requires that down payments be on all articles costing $50 or more, instead of the previous $100 minimum.

Besides radios and television sets, home appliances affected are cooking stoves, washers, ironers, dishwashers, vacuum cleaners, phonographs and sewing machines.

In making its decision, the board disregarded numerous demands from business for easing of the credit controls or delaying the new restrictions.

The drop in holiday buying may be significant but purchases of other goods are expected to remain higher if not gain as a result of the controls.

Maj. Gen. Strickler To Attend Pardons Board Session

HARRISBURG, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler will join the State Pardons board Wednesday at Harrisburg to provide a quorum to hear final clemency appeals by four condemned slayers.

Strickler as Lieutenant Governor was chairman of the board when he was called to military service as commanding general of the Pennsylvania National Guard's 28th Infantry Division.

He said yesterday that he will take a short leave from his military duties to furnish a quorum of three along with State Internal Affairs Secretary William S. Livingston, Jr., and Secretary of the Commonwealth Gene D. Smith.

Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, the fourth board member disqualified himself from ruling on the capital cases because his law office had interceded in behalf of the condemned men prior to his appointment.

Seeking commutation to life imprisonment are David Darcy, 25, Harry Zietz, 21, and Harold Foster, 26, sentenced to die in the electric chair October 30 for the fatal holdup-shooting of a bystander at the Feasterville Inn in Bucks county, and Dominick Daversa, 35, of Westmoreland county, slated to die October 23 for slaying his wife.

Two Boys Return Billfold And $24 Found On Street

Once upon a time, so legend says, Diogenes carried an illuminated lantern through streets looking for an honest man. Were Diogenes alive, and in New Castle today, he could toss away the lantern because, instead of one honest man having been discovered, two honest boys have been found.

While Bob Kerr, age 9, of 205 Boyles avenue, and Bob Pape, age 13, of 235 East Lincoln avenue, were walking south on North Mercer street this morning to swim at the Y, they found a billfold containing $24.

They took the billfold containing the money to Sergeant Dent Shields at police headquarters.

The owner's address, that of Fred D. Gemmill, Sussex apartments, North Mercer street, was found in the billfold.

Sergeant Shields notified Gemmill of the recovery of the money and he gave the boys a reward.

(P.S. Last Saturday Kerr found $12 at the Y, which he returned to its owner.)

Rose Point Honor Roll To Be Removed

The Honor Roll at Rose Point will be removed Monday evening at 7:30 p. m.

Only the flag pole will remain as a permanent marker. However, there will be a permanent honor list kept.

Legal Battle Over Color T.V. Decision Seen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(INS)—The government today braced itself for a storm of legal protest over its controversial decision on color television but is confident it can make the order stand up in Federal courts.

Since the decision Wednesday establishing the Columbia Broadcasting System's color plan as standard for the nation, at least one TV firm, the Pilot Corporation of New York, has sworn a court challenge.

Still other color TV system patent holders are expected to take on the Federal Communications System in court. But the FCC's legal staff says it is certain that the CBS award is based on sound legal grounds.

The Admiral Television Corp. said the CBS method is doomed to failure because of its mechanical peculiarities and—particularly—the fact that eight million viewers will be unable to pick up color casts in black and white on their present sets without buying an expensive attachment.

Industry spokesmen also fear that a successful court suit against the FCC might result in "complete chaos," with a virtual open season for all color systems to take the air at once.

Under these conditions, they point out, the public would be caught in the middle as it was during the recent "feud" among the makers of long-playing records of varying speeds.

FCC legal advisers contend that the commission chose the CBS plan because it is workable, more fool-proof, simpler to operate and puts out a better color picture than the other competitive systems.

Manpower Pinch For Generations Is Seen By Hershey

CARLISLE, Pa., Oct. 14.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. Louis B. Hershey, U. S. selective service chief, insists that the nation can afford the cost of a military force of 3,000,000 men.

"There isn't anything we can't afford in order to survive," he told students at the armed forces information school at Carlisle yesterday.

Hershey repeated his recent comments that the nation faces a manpower pinch "which may last a generation" and that men in the 19-26 age bracket will form the primary source of military personnel.

"We are going to have to take a tougher attitude toward deferments," he declared. "We cannot defer anyone who desires to be trained scientifically or technically."

Either veterans or 18-year-olds will have to be inducted to boost the armed services to a 3,000,000 total, he added.

Want In The Act?

You Think You're An Actor? Tryouts Are Thursday Night

"There's no business like show business," end of quote.

Hardly a man is now alive who at one time or another hasn't thought he could do Hamlet better than Barrymore, sing better than John Charles Thomas or is a better comedian than Bob Hope.

That's why there's no business like show business. It goes for the ladies too. In the deep recesses of her heart probably every girl between the age of 6 and 66 has wondered what Jane Russell had that she didn't have and you don't need to answer that one.

Tryouts Thursday Which brings us to the show "Red, Hot and Blue," the extravaganza to be presented November 9-10-11 by the New Castle Rotary club. We were coming to it anyway.

It's a home town show with home town talent and directed by a home town professional, Lee Winter, who has been doing this work since hot dogs were a nickel. It takes talent to find out what talent there is in New Castle there will be a tryout on Thursday night, October 19 in the basement of the North street school.

Can you sing? Can you dance? Can you juggle, tell jokes, do impersonations, swing from the flying trapeze, in other words can you do anything that will give the customers a laugh or some entertainment.

Then this is for you guys and gals. If you want to be in the show and you think your act will roll them in the aisles, report in the basement of the North street school Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. The Rotarians are looking for talent.

DAHLIA GROWS BIG TUSCALOOSA, Ala.—Mr. and Mrs. N. L. House exhibited a home-grown dahlia at their curb market here measuring one foot across and three feet in circumference.

The hills are still there, of course, but a Federal driver knows he is going to make them without any trouble. Federals are powered for Pennsylvania hills.

This Is Our Community Chest, It's A Personal Responsibility

This is Community Chest time, the time when all of us are asked to provide the funds needed for twelve worth while agencies in this county. The Chest needs $127,600 to finance it properly throughout the coming year.

The Community Chest, through its agencies, touches every one of us during the year. It is our responsibility, our job, our chest.

Many of our neighbors are not only giving their money but they are giving of their time and ability to collect the money. Most of us are merely asked to give. It averages a little better than a dollar each for all of us to guarantee the existence of these 12 worth while agencies for the coming year.

Let's face this personal responsibility, all of us. Let's give our share and then a little more to take care of some who may not be fortunate enough to be able to help.

Red Hurricane Second Half Drive Too Much For Farrell, 20-13

'Canes Fight Back And Gain Command, Record Fourth Win

New Castle high school put over three touchdowns in the last 13 minutes of play Friday night at Taggart stadium to defeat a good Farrell team 20-13.

Things were looking pretty grim for the Red Hurricanes midway in the third quarter when the Night Riders scored their second touchdown of the game to take a 13-0 lead.

Up to that point the Ne-Ca-Hi boys could do little in the way of ground gaining and even the most steadfast rooters were beginning to concede victory to Farrell.

Canes Begin To Roll

It was after that second Farrell touchdown that the Canes gained their bearings and began to roll. They took the kickoff after the Night Rider TD and marched 54 yards down the field for the score, seconds before the third quarter ended. Sansone went from the two on a quarterback sneak. Amodei's placement was good.

Screen Passes

Two completed screen passes from Latsko to Sansone were the key plays in the drive. One went to the right and was good for seven yards. The other was over the left and good for nine yards. With a few blocks either could have gone all the way.

Roussos and Latsko took turns hitting the line to take the ball from the 24 down to the two.

New Castle regained possession of the ball early in the fourth quarter when Guy Amodei intercepted a pass in Farrell territory. Again the Canes marched down the field for the score with Sansone taking a Latsko screen pass to the left for the score. Again Guy Amodei's kick was good to give New Castle a 14-13 lead.

The Canes added another score for good measure with less than two minutes remaining to play. Lucas Fiorante recovered a Night Rider fumble on the Farrell seven yard line. A five yard penalty put the ball back to the 12, but three plays later Wilbur Folt went around right end from the six for the touchdown. Amodei's attempt for the extra point was wide.

Farrell Scores Early

Farrell scored its first touchdown with three minutes remaining in the first quarter. The Canes made a determined stand inside their own five-yard line and Sansone punted out to Julius McCoy on the NC-30. McCoy brought the ball back down to the 14.

Two plays later quarterback Bob Hoffman connected with McCoy on a screen pass. McCoy took the ball at the line of scrimmage and raced 14 yards for the score.

Hoffman passed to Marion Lampkins for the extra point.

Farrell's score in the third period came after Joe Fronko fell on a Canes fumble on the New Castle 41. After one incomplete pass hit fullback Dick Spisito with a pass and Spisito legged it down the right side line to the one, where he was hit by John Sansone.

Spisito plunged across for the TD on the next play. His attempted placement for the extra point was not good.

The game ended with New Castle in possession of the ball on the Farrell 28-yard line. Sam Perrino

FRIDAY 13TH JINX?

Friday the 13th proved to be anything but a jinx to the New Castle high school football team.

The Red Hurricanes trailed by 13 points with 13 minutes to go last night—Friday, Oct. 13—when they caught fire and drove for three fast touchdowns.

To top it off the Canes scored their first touchdown on the 13th play after Farrell scored its 13th point.

recovered a Night Rider fumble with less than a minute remaining to stop any possible chance of Farrell tying the score.

Nice Passing

The passing of quarterback Bob Hoffman was a constant threat throughout the ball game. Early in the first quarter end St. Ali dropped a pass in the end-zone with nobody near him to help the Canes cause.

Just previous to that two completed passes had brought the ball from mid-field down to the 11-yard line. Two other passes just dribbled off the ends of the fingers of Night Rider receivers to prevent harm to New Castle.

The two lines played on almost even terms for the first half of the ball game. In the second half, however, the Canes forward wall started breaking through faster on defense and making bigger holes

Local Group To See Army Game

New Castle will be well represented at the Army-Michigan game in New York today, a large delegation of business and professional men having left late Thursday night for the metropolis in a special car.

They will return home over the week end, leaving this evening. The men make the trip to New York each year, taking in one of the outstanding games in the east.

Washington Whips Butler

North Hillers
Win Third 26-0

George Washington junior high school defeated Butler junior high 26-0 Friday afternoon at Washington field, for the third win of the season without a loss for the Little Presidents.

Joe Lane started the scoring midway in the first quarter when he raced 50 yards for a touchdown. Two recovered fumbles by Ed Kelley set up two more touchdowns in the second quarter.

Lane went 12 yards for his second touchdown of the game with Lee Pears plunging for the extra point. Bongivengo tallied from the 10 with Lane running for the point.

In the third period Washington marched down to the 10 but failed to score. In the fourth frame the McClelland team took a punt on the Butler 23 and marched all the way for the touchdown. Pears plunged over from the two for the score.

Excellent line play was a big factor in Washington's win. Butler gained but one first down, to eight for Washington. Ed Kelly did a good job of backing up the Little President line.

Ellwood Bumps Midland 20-12

Ellwood City won its first away-from-home game this season last night by pumping the Class A Midland Middies 20-12.

The Ellwood model T chugged to the Midland 22, slowed down, and then moved into touchdown territory as Friello slipped around left end on a reverse. Tammaro plunged over for a 7-0 score.

Carl Tammaro, added another first quarter marker on a 68-yard touchdown jaunt. Cowan bucked over for the point number 14.

Midland rallied and marched to the Ellwood 17 in eight plays. Here Gibson flipped to substitute Reider for a touchdown. Stewart's placement kick was wide, and Ellwood led 14-6.

Carl Tammaro then sunk the Middies with a 36-yard clincher over right tackle. Cowan's drive for the extra point failed and Ellwood led 20-6.

A Stewart to Reider pass moved Midland within striking distance and only one touchdown away, but again Stewart's kick was wide and Ellwood led 20-12.

Ellwood pushed the ball to the 4 as the game ended.

The Wolverines walked off with first down honors, 11 to 9. A crowd of 5500 witnessed the game.

Union Displays Second Half Strength, Scotties Ride Over Shenango 34-13

Shenango high spotted Union two first period touchdowns bounced back to tie the game in the second quarter, and then wilted in the final half to lose 34 to 13.

Bill Ahrens, Scotty halfback personally accounted for the first Union six pointer when he fell on a Johnny Allen fumble deep in Shenango territory.

Ahrens then took a handoff over tackle 17 yards for the game's opened score. Barber's kick was good and Union led 7-0.

The alert Unionites grabbed another early quarter fumble on the Wildcat 26, where Ahrens took over. He smashed over from the seven in three plays. Union led 13-0 when the extra point pass was broken up.

Shenango recovered and took advantage of Union's shoddy ball handling and grabbed the elusive pigskin on the Union 31. Allen then threw completed passes to Duckworth and Wanatosky to move the ball to the three. He scored through center. The extra point attempt was blocked and Shenango trailed 6-13 in the second period.

Wolfbrandt's fumble in the same quarter was again costly to Union. Johnny Allen uncorked a flat pass that settled in Wanatosky's arms and was carried 41 yards over the goal line. Allen ran a pitchout over for the extra point to tie the score, 13-13.

The business-like Scotties owned the ball in the third quarter.

Shenango had possession on only four of the 26 plays run off. Ronnie May and Pete Barber accounted for six third quarter first downs and drove for 96 yards. Barber eventually scored from the one culminating a 36-yard march.

Lanky Ronnie May took Wolfbrandt's handoff around right end for a fourth period touchdown, and then from a surprise single wing formation set up the game's final score when he raced 28 yards to the Shenango five. Wolfbrandt hit Wright with a touchdown pass and Barber converted for the fourth time. Union 34, Shenango 13.

Fumbles Costly

Union showed amazing power in clicking off 15 first downs and 33 ground yards. Pete Barber, Ronnie May and Bill Ahrens, get-away backs, ran inside and outside Shenango flanks with amazing concern.

Shenango faded when the Union defense solved Allen's passing game. Allen connected three successive times in the second period. Four first half fumbles were turned into touchdowns, the teams splitting even in this department. Phil Marondi, not even listed

Greensburg Eliminated By New Kensington 8-6

(By International News Service)

Coach Don Fletcher and his New Kensington lads have a reputation for doing the bizarre and playing winning football besides. They did both last night and broke a lot of hearts in Greensburg by upsetting their Westmoreland county rivals, 8-6.

The defeat removed Greensburg from titular consideration and reduced the number of contenders to seven. By nightfall, it could be down to six.

Unbeaten Altoona, a surprise team this season, is at home with a beaten but very formidable Latrobe eleven, which earlier removed New Castle from the race.

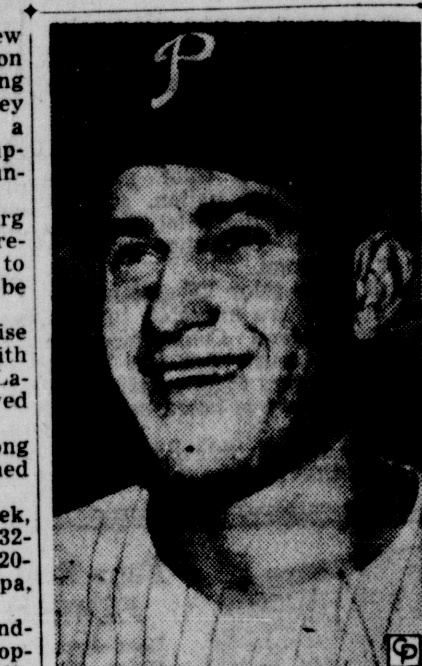

Other contenders clipped along in fine style. Charleroi slammed Braddock, 35-15.

Munhall blanked Turtle Creek, 14-0. Butler drubbed Sharon, 32-13. Duquesne took rival Scott, 20-13, and Ambridge beat Aliquippa, 12-7.

Uniontown, the seventh contender, did not meet a class AA opponent this week. But the Fayette county kids warmed up for next week by lambasting intra-city rival, South Union, 53-0, Thursday night.

WEST CHESTER WINS

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 14—(INS)—West Chester Teachers' College defeated Lock Haven Teachers' College, 39-21, last night to keep intact a record of not having suffered defeat at home since 1946.

(By International News Service)

The New York Giants, only undefeated team in the National Football League, seek their fourth straight victory tomorrow as they tackle Pittsburgh in the season's Polo Grounds opener.

It could be that the Steelers will be more than the Giants bargain for, despite a 1-3 record that currently has them on the opposite end of the American division standings from the New Yorkers.

The Giants had a close call last week against Washington.

Bears vs Lions

Just waiting for the Giants to falter are the Cleveland Browns and Philadelphia Eagles, each once beaten. The Browns entertain the Chicago Cardinals while the Eagles play at Baltimore.

In the National division, the Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions will be gunning to regain a share of first place with the idle New York Yanks. The Yanks went out Thursday night and won their fourth game in five starts, defeating San Francisco, 29 to 24.

Tomorrow, Green Bay beads the Bears in Chicago and Los Angeles appears at Detroit.

Three More Pitt Gridders Called

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.—(INS)—

The University of Pittsburgh football team, which has been taking drubbing from its opponents, isn't faring very well with the Marine Corps, either.

Three fullbacks, Paul Chess, Mike Omatick, and John Huzvar, have gone into service on calls from the Marines so far this season.

And now three more gridders have received orders to report to Parris Island, S. C., Oct. 25. They are end Chris Warriner, halfback Jim Campbell and tackle Bill Gasparovic—all regulars.

The three players still can appear against Rice today and Northwestern next Saturday.

Phillies Acquire Young Infielder

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—(INS)—

The Phillies have acquired Clarence (Buddy) Hicks, 23-year-old infielder from the Brooklyn Dodger farm system.

Hicks, with Hollywood last season, batted .239, including 18 doubles, one triple and seven homers.

Big Shakeup In Police Heads In New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Police Commissioner Thomas F. Murphy shook up the department's high command Friday, ordering four inspectors to retire at once or face the consequences.

One already has complied. Assistant Chief Inspector Joseph W. Goldstein, 64, in charge of uniformed police in Queens and the Bronx, submitted his retirement application. Before being shifted to this command, Goldstein was stationed in Brooklyn, but has not been subpoenaed in the gambling inquiry.

Submits Retirement Papers
Murphy's action came several hours after Inspector Valentine W. Corell, former commander of the 16th Division, had submitted his retirement papers. The 16th Division in Brooklyn was where the first evidence of police corruption was uncovered.

The three other top-brass ordered by Murphy to quit or face the probability of being demoted to captains are:
Deputy Chief Inspector John W. Sutter, 62, of Queens Village, commander of uniformed forces in Brooklyn. He was sent to his present command from the Bronx on January 9, 1950. Sutter, a veteran of 39 years on the force, became deputy chief inspector on September 1, 1945.

Has Nervous Breakdown
Inspector Nicholas A. Pisarra, 54, who suffered a nervous breakdown while under subpoena to testify before the Brooklyn gambling grand jury. Pisarra had commanded Brooklyn's notorious 19th Division, home base of big-time gamblers, until he was transferred last January to Manhattan's 3rd Division. Recently, Pisarra has been assigned to the office of the chief inspector.

Inspector Christian R. Salseder, 55, of the Bronx, in charge of Bronx detectives. Salseder, on the force 31 years, became an inspector in 1947, at which time he was placed in command of Bronx detectives. Prior to that, he had directed the inquiry into the still unsolved murder of Joseph Scottorrigio, Harlem campaign worker, who had been fighting Rep. Vito Marcantonio.

Murphy would not discuss whether his "get out or else" order to the high-ranking officials was a consequence of the Brooklyn investigation, which has turned up evidence of huge bribe payments by gamblers.

But he did say that his action was intended to eliminate the efficiency of the department by weeding out "dead wood."

Four Women And Two Children Are Brutally Beaten

DETROIT, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Four women and two children were brutally beaten, one critically, by a crazed man who terrorized the northwest section of Detroit last night.

Four of the victims were attacked in their homes and the other two on the street as the unidentified man ran wild for two hours.

One of the women, 47-year-old Mrs. Dorothy Julie, was reported near death from a skull fracture suffered when the attacker invaded her home.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(INS)—The delicate, finely-wrapped anklets of Herman Delman's race horses have done more than win prizes this fall for their owner.

The shoe designer's midwinter collection of evening shoes introduces slippers with "race-horse" ankle straps of wide satin ribbons, slipper satin, gold kid or jewel-studded lace. Delman credits the inspiration to his hobby of watching his gee-gees in their spirited steps out on the track.

"There's only one thing prettier than a fine horse's ankle, and that's a pretty woman's," he said. "I figured the ankle wrappings, properly glamorized, were a logical fashion idea."

BRINGING UP FATHER

BY GEORGE McMANUS

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, 14.—The Moody Institute of Science has come up with another wrinkle in the exhibition of their stop, look and listen scientific movies.

The organization with the only studio in Hollywood devoted exclusively to the making of scientific pictures is training technical specialists to fly into the jungle areas and other remote spots and set up equipment for the showing of the pictures.

The "sneak previews" in the jungles of Central and South America, the African Sudan and the Congo are said to be well received among the untutored natives. The pictures are in the institute's "sermons from science" series and are a happy blend of science and religion.

Special Training
The student with special scientific training or aptitude for the rating of technical specialist missionary first goes through a preliminary course at the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. Later he is sent to the Institute of Science in Hollywood for completion of his training under Dr. Irving Moon, the institute director.

At the end of the four-year course the specialist can fly an airplane with radio equipment to any given remote point. He is taught to survive in the jungle and to show the scientific pictures to the natives. The course meets with government standards and the graduate gets his license in commercial flying and radio.

The specialists not only spread the gospel by pictures and the spoken word, but also attempt to reduce the language of the Indian to written form and to translate the Bible.

Dr. Moon's most recent film, "To Every Treasure," is the story of primitive peoples living in South American jungles and includes an inspiring pictorial record of the actual use to which scientific and technical skills are being put in the remote reaches of the earth.

Four Basic Courses
One of the institute's specialists flew some 60,000 miles in 11 months in the African Sudan in which he carried some 200 missionaries from mission station to mission station.

In Bolivia the Airplane made possible a journey of 70-air miles which once took eight days by foot and ox cart. In Alaska a five-week dog sled journey was cut to five or six hours by air.

Besides flying and communications, the specialist must master four basic courses before he takes to the air as a movie distributor. The courses include missionary medicine, missionary dentistry, cooking and building. All are crammed with information on how to survive and how to cope with any emergency in a primitive area.

Besides the jungle areas and hinterlands, the Moody series is released to churches, colleges and schools throughout the nation. The pictures also are a part of the Air Force's character guidance program.
